

4th Annual Northern Virginia Transportation Roundtable

DRIVEN BY INNOVATION: A Glimpse into the Future of Transportation

Presented by:

The Northern Virginia Transportation Authority (NVTA) and The Intelligent Transportation Society of Virginia (ITS Virginia)

Wednesday, March 13, 2019

8:00 am – Noon

SOLD OUT

The 4th Annual Northern Virginia Transportation Roundtable is themed: “Driven by InNoVation: A Glimpse into the Future of Transportation.”

The roundtable, which will be both informative and interactive, comprises of two plenary sessions, featuring two panels consisting of transportation and technology experts. Both sessions will be moderated by Max Smith, transportation and Northern Virginia reporter with WTOP.

Program

7:30 am Registration, networking, continental breakfast sponsored by John Marshall Bank

8:00 am Welcome Monica Backmon, Executive Director, Northern Virginia Transportation Authority; and Blanche (Bee) Buerger, Arlington County, President, Intelligent Transportation Society of Virginia

8:15 am Connected, Autonomous, Shared, and Electric (CASE) Vehicles; The Latest and Greatest Developments and Impacts: Disruptive technologies are already here and beginning to change the way we travel. This session will feature a panel discussion with experts at the leading edge of the new mobility revolution.

- Moderated by: Max Smith, Reporter, WTOP
 - Mike Mollenhauer, Director, Center for Technology Implementation, Virginia Tech Transportation Institute
 - Paul Mackie, Director, Research and Communications, Mobility Lab
 - Maggie Gendron, Director, Strategic Development, Lime
 - Scott Zuchorski – Senior Director, Global Infrastructure and Project Finance Group, Fitch Ratings

9:45 am Break

10:00 am Transportation Technology Deployments and Shared Mobility Initiatives across the Metro Area: The new mobility revolution presents opportunities for travelers and challenges for policy makers. This session will explore current activities in Maryland, the District, and the Commonwealth.

- Moderated by: Max Smith, WTOP
 - Lei Zhang, Director, Maryland Transportation Institute, University of Maryland – incenTrip: Personalized Multimodal Travel Demand Management
 - Amanda Stout, Deputy Chief of Staff, DDOT – AV Deployment in the District of Columbia
 - Jennifer Debruhl, Chief of Public Transportation, DRPT – Transit Technology and Shared Mobility Initiatives in Virginia
 - Cathy McGhee, Director, Transportation Innovation and Research, VDOT – Innovation in the Commonwealth of Virginia
 - Monica Backmon, Executive Director, Northern Virginia Transportation Authority – NVTA Initiatives

11:45 am Audience Interaction: Moderated by: Max Smith, WTOP

A special thank you to John Marshall Bank for sponsoring breakfast.

Venue

Northern Virginia Transportation Authority
3040 Williams Drive, Suite 200, Fairfax, Virginia 22031

Social Media

We invite you to engage with us before, during and after the event. To join the conversation, please use the hashtag #TranspoTech19 and tag us on Twitter at @NVTAuthority or @VirginiaITSVA. You can also find NVTA on Facebook at @TheNVTA.